UPDATING CEMETERIES IN MIDDLESEX COUNTY BY THE LONDON-MIDDLESEX COUNTY BRANCH:

Starting in late 1995, the branch commenced re-checking all 228 known cemeteries. Many, do not exist, and others, in cairn, require no changes. They are however being rechecked.

In the finish copies asterisks (*) are used to denote all changes from original copy to facilitate the work of those who have all our cemeteries on computer indexing.

The (*) means a change of a single letter, a figure in a date, or a whole line.

Additional information has been given, at the time of a recent burial, for family members who died in the distant past.

We hope this helps to keep the London-Middlesex County's cemetery records up to date.

SIMPSON CEMETERY

The land for this cemetery was given by John Simpson, likely John Simpson on Row 4-9/10.

The settlers were predominantly English from Cumberland, North Devon, Westmoreland. The Smith and Zavitz families were from Germany, and there are also many Scottish families buried here .

The earliest burial is for Nancy, daughter of Zerah B. & Mary Ann Gilbert, who died Nov. 25, 1849/æ 3 yrs.

In 1881 there was a severe diptheria epidemic. Many families lost small children. The Moore family lost 3 small children in December 1881 (Row 9-28) after losing 3 children in the 1870s.

There are many spaces between plots that may have missing stones. It is well-kept and it is very easy to find the rows in this cemetery.

RE: OBITUARY COLLECTION

Since mid-1982, the London-Middlesex Co. Branch, O.G.S., has collected obituaries from the London Free Press, Exeter Times-Advocate, St. Marys Journal-Argus, and collated them into blue binders.

All obits are arranged with individual surnames of similar spellings together. (e.g. AA to AM are in one binder) They are completed up to the end of 1995, but it is an ongoing project.

Photocopies of any surname can be purchased at 25¢ per page, plus postage. Keep in mind that the ADAMS are not as numerous as the BROWNS.

In the near future, we expect to have these obituaries entered into the computer listings available for Middlesex County.

HISTORY OF THE SIMPSON CEMETERY

21563 PRATT SIDING ROAD-SOUTHWEST MIDDLESEX
Formerly in Mosa Twp., Part broken Lot 9 Range 2 South of Longwoods road.

The original Crown grant for this land was to The Kings College of York, Upper Canada. On August 17, 1835 the property, comprising 37 acres, went by conveyance to John Simpson for the sum of twenty seven pounds and fifteen shillings. The deed was registered as instrument #4359 on April 11, 1876. (This John Simpson lies buried in plot 9, Range 5 South, having died March 23, 1884. Next to him lies his wife Mary and son George B. Simpson).

On April 4, 1876 this property, as well as 100 acres at lot 9, Range 1 South of the Longwoods road, was conveyed from John Simpson and wife to John W. Simpson under instrument #4361.

March 8, 1882 witnessed the change of ownership of all the abovementioned property from John W. Simpson and wife to William Simpson by conveyance. Instrument #5672 was used for this transaction.

It wasn't until April 25, 1882 that a "Deed in Trust" was entered into by William Simpson and his wife with the Trustees of the Simpson Cemetery for one acre of land to be used as a burying ground. The purchase price was $40.00. The trustees at that time were William Weekes and Isaac Simpson of Mosa township and Thomas Dymock of Aldborough. They had been appointed to their positions at a meeting held on January 21, 1882 at the Simpson Church. This church was Methodist Episcopalian in denomination and was located on the southeast corner of Lot 9 R1S. Two early Ministers listed in the book, "The History of Middlesex County", likely served here. Bernard Markle in 1844 and Nathan Parke in 1845 and 46.

Part of the wording of the Trust Deed states: Whereas certain of the inhabitants of the said Townships of Mosa and Aldborough to the number of more than ten are desirous of taking a conveyance of the lands and premises hereinafter described for a burying ground not to belong exclusively to any particular denomination of Christians. It took until November 21, 1883 to have this Deed registered.

It is quite obvious that burials took place in this location prior to 1882 as can be noticed by just a couple of examples. Elisha the one year old son of Elijah and Agness Sutton was buried in July of 1841 and Nancy, the daughter of Zerah B. and Mary Ann Gilbert, who died at 3 years of age, was laid to rest here in November of 1849. Sixty or more burials took place during the fifties, sixties, seventies and early eighties.

Settlers in the area of the cemetery were predominantly English, with many from Cumberland, North Devon, Leicestershire and Westmoreland. There were also many from Scotland, namely Argyllshire, Paisley, Rosburgh, Berwick and Kintyre. A couple are noted to have come from Germany: Smith and Zavitz. The wife of William Simpson was a native of Fermanagh, Ireland.

The names of the early members of the Simpson Church (from the 1850's) included Elijah Sutton, Elijah Lumley, Benjamin Watterworth, Anne Watterworth (widow), John Webber, William Gilbert, James Hennan, Cornelius Degraw, Lydia Thomas, Mrs. Sampson and Mrs. Lumley.

Of these just listed the following are buried in the cemetery along side their wives: Elijah and Agnes Sutton, Elijah and Lavinia Lumley, Benjamin and Sarah Watterworth, Cornelius and Margaret Degraw. Many descendants of the above mentioned also lie here.

Simpson Cemetery

In 1881 there was a severe diphtheria epidemic. Many families in the area lost small children. Lycomedes and Annis Moore lost two girls and one boy during the month of December. They had already suffered the death of one girl and two boys, during their infancy, in the early 1870's.

The cemetery rows were set up the same as the lower or southern part of the former Mosa township: in Ranges north and south from the Longwoods road. In the case of the cemetery the service road acts as the Longwoods. There are seven Ranges on the south and five on the north. The intention, I believe, was for eighteen plots to run from east to west with the numbering starting on the east side.

Because of the lay of the land and overgrowth of vegetation over the years this isn't now visible.

To the best of my knowledge there is no original plot plan in existence. There was an old plan held by a former Trustee, Harry Harvey but when he moved from Woodgreen to Wardsville in the early 1950's someone helping in the move threw the plan into a bonfire set to burn refuse.

Mr. Harvey, Lloyd Simpson, Jesse and Lelah Lumley set to work and came up with a new drawing based on memory and tombstone markings.

I came into possession of this item when I became a Trustee in 1979.

During the summers of the last three years the Trustees have been slowly restoring stones to a firmer and more upright position in efforts to insure the cemetery is not only a place of dignity for the dead but a safe place to visit.
